Continuing Professional Development 2008/09 Training & Development Programme

The Survive & Save Club

Survive and Save Club was founded in 1970 and operates on Friday evenings during term time at Harrow Leisure Centre, Middlesex. We are affiliated to both the Amateur Swimming Association (ASA) and the Royal Lifesaving Society UK (RLSS UK). We are a unique club specialising in teaching swimming through the ASA National Plan for Teaching Swimming, providing lifesaving classes to the distinction award and the National Pool Lifeguard Qualification. Our successes have been confirmed by the ASA, the national governing body for sport.

The club is affiliated to the Amateur Swimming Association London region and Royal Life Saving Society UK Middlesex Branch. We are an Approved Training Centre for the RLSS National Pool Lifeguard Programme and in conjunction with Survive and Save Training Ltd, an Approved Centre to run courses leading to ASA Teacher and Coach Certification. In addition, we hold the ASA Swim 21 accreditation for Teaching (this is the national quality mark for swimming clubs) and the Sport England Clubmark award. We have also been accredited the Aquamark. The ASA Approved Scheme for Teaching and Coaching of Swimming for our quality learn to swim programme. We are the first club in the country to receive this accreditation.

In May 2007, the club was featured in a four page article in the Swimming Times magazine. We have been nationally recognised for our diversity and youth development training programmes, and in 2008 were nominated as London Proactive awards as one of top three sport clubs in London.

Survive and Save Training Ltd

Survive and Save Training Limited is the training arm of the Survive and Save Club. The company is responsible for all the training and development courses detailed in this coming year will see the implementation of the revised National Plan for Teaching Swimming including the launch of the Rookie Lifeguard programme, which I have acted as consultant to the RLSS UK on this programme. The training and development programme is open to non club members and you are welcome to apply. Amateur Swimming Association has completely revised their qualifications with separate teaching and coaching strands which are under the ASA/UKCC accreditation. Our revised comprehensive programme increases the variety and depth of ASA & RLSS Teacher training courses, IoS / Sports Coach UK accredited seminars and training / development qualifications from Edexcel.

This year we have expanded the range of ASA/UKCC Level 1 and 2 courses on offer to include both teaching aquatics and coaching certificates. We are working in partnership with our local competitive swimming clubs to be able to host these courses. In addition, we are intending to run ASA Helper and Level 1 in teaching swimming to people with disabilities.

SPORTS COACH UK WORKSHOPS

Safeguarding & Protecting Children

The updated 'Good Practice and Child Protection' workshop and resource (new title 'Safeguarding and Protecting Children') meets the basic foundation requirements for safeguarding and protecting children and young people in sport, for anyone whose role brings them into contact with children and young people across these three target levels.

Anyone with designated responsibility for safeguarding children and young people (whether paid or unpaid) would need to access more specialised learning opportunities. Any volunteer or professional working with children or young people should expect their learning provision to enable them to acquire accreditation for qualifications across the children's workforce, in line with the government's Children's Workforce Strategy (which seeks to build an integrated qualifications framework).
