The Survive and Save Club

Survive and Save Club was founded in 1970 and operates on Friday evenings during term time at Harrow Leisure Centre, Middlesex. We are affiliated to both the Amateur Swimming Association (ASA) and the Royal Lifesaving Society UK (RLSS UK). We are a unique club specialising in teaching swimming through the ASA National Plan for Teaching Swimming, providing lifesaving classes to the distinction award and the National Pool Lifeguard Qualification.

Our successes have been confirmed by the ASA, the national governing body for sport. The club is affiliated to the Amateur Swimming Association London region and Royal Life Saving Society UK Middlesex Branch. We are an Approved Training Centre for the RLSS National Pool Lifeguard Programme and in conjunction with Survive and Save Training Ltd., an Approved Centre to run courses leading to ASA Teacher and Coach Certification.

In addition, we hold the ASA Swim 21 accreditation for Teaching (this is the national quality mark for swimming clubs) and the Sport England Clubmark award. We have also been accredited the ASA Aquamark Approved Scheme for Teaching of Swimming for our quality learn to swim programme.

We are the first club in the country to receive this accreditation.

In May 2007, the club was featured in a four page article in the Swimming Times magazine. We have been nationally recognised for our diversity and youth development training programmes, and in 2008 were nominated as London Proactive awards as one of top three sport clubs in London.

Survive and Save Training Ltd.

Survive and Save Training Limited is the training arm of the Survive and Save Club. The company is responsible for all the training and development courses detailed within this brochure. In the coming year due to popular demand for courses, we have increased our programme.
